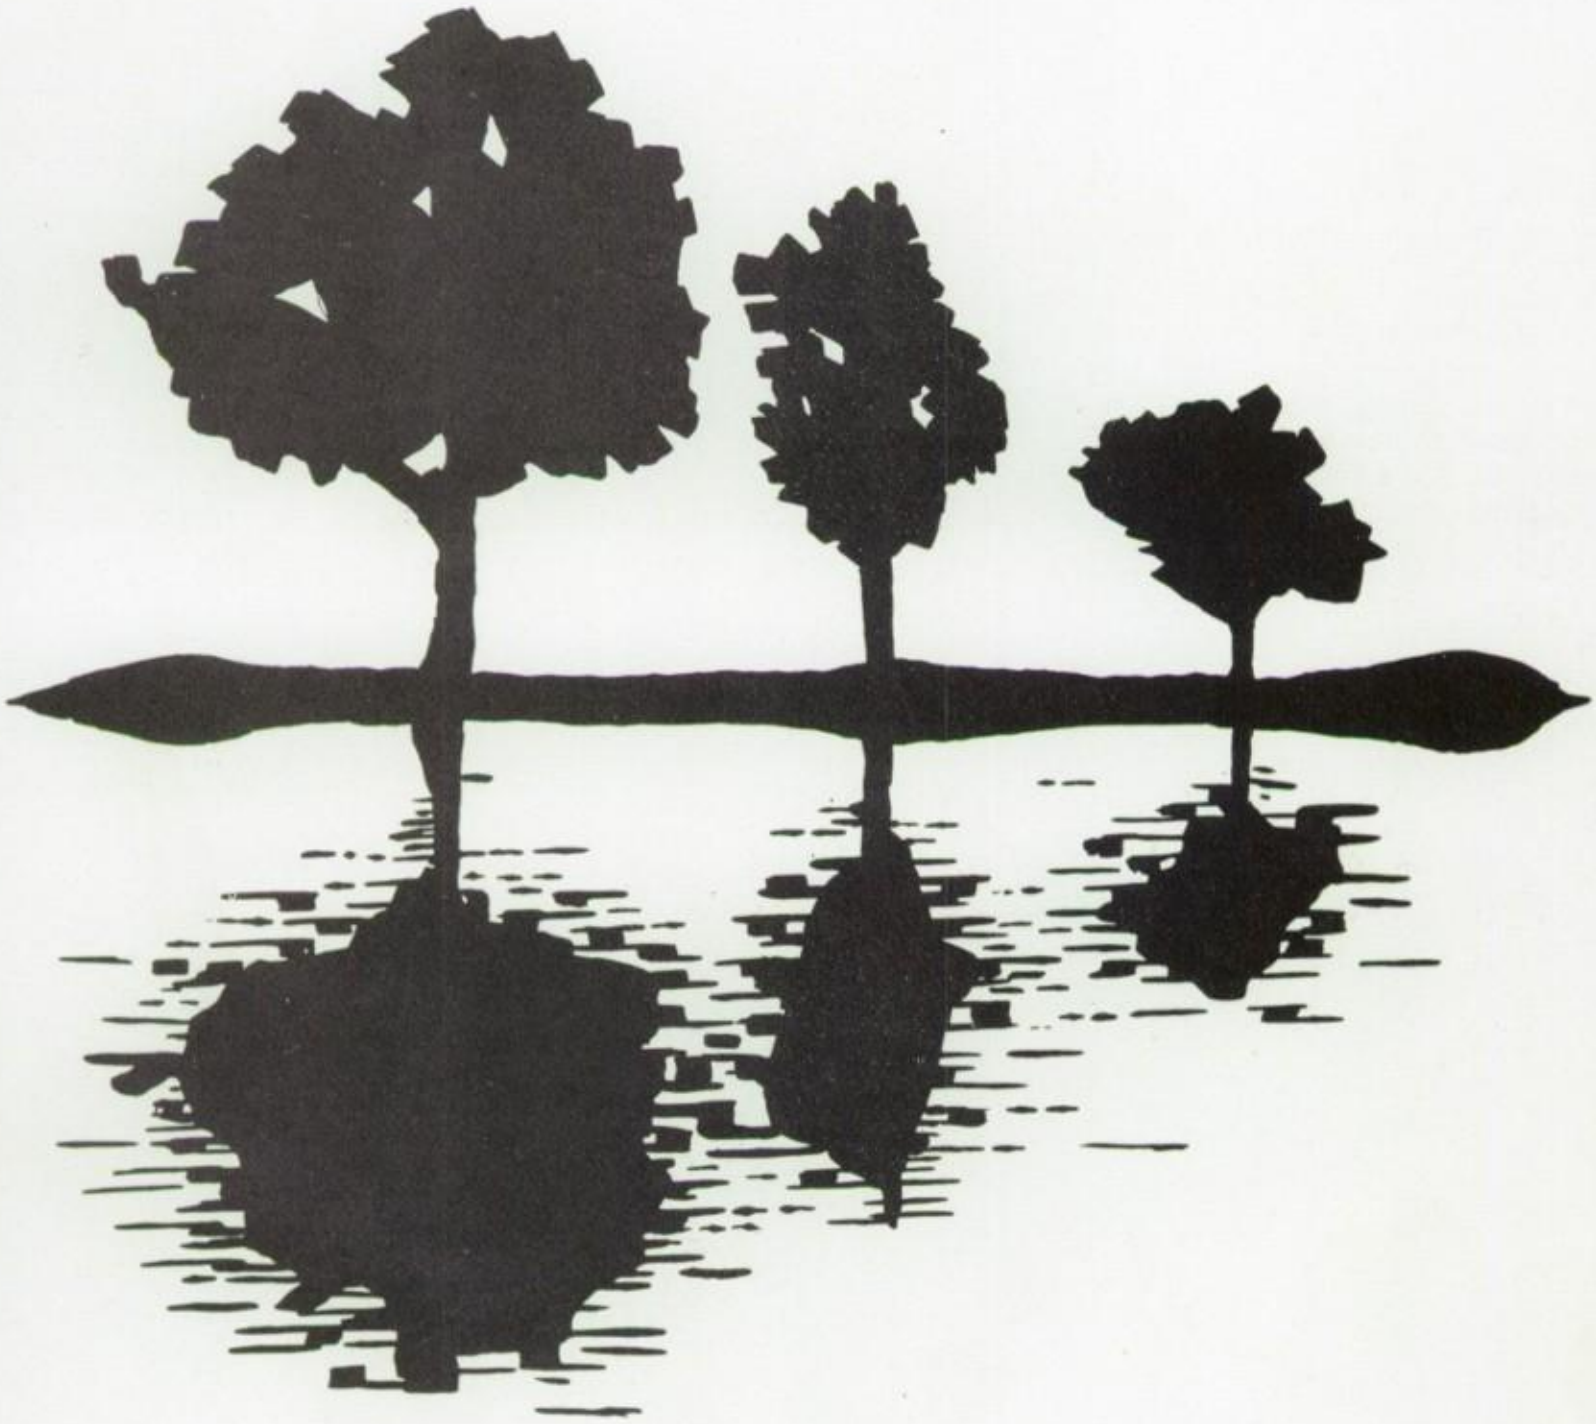
Reflections

As a mirror reflects images, so this MONOCLE reflects Chi Hi. The year 1977-78 was unique, and Reflections '78 is our impression of those events which made it special and different from any other year. In the year 2003, when the Seniors of '78 are having their 25th reunion, few mementos or souvenirs of high school will remain. We are a mobile society, and statistics show that today's students will move an average of 15 times in the next quarter century. House cleanings, garage sales, and lack of storage space mean that fewer possessions will be kept as tangible reminders of our youth. Whatever else is discarded, the yearbook will remain to help us recall the importance of Fleetwood Mac and Chicago albums, Levi's, Tee shirts and Adidas, bubble gum and skateboards, in the lives of Seniors of '78 as recorded on pages 8 and 9 of the MONOCLE. Reflections '78 will contain the only capsule record of the school year 1977-78 and will store these reflected memories.



Time Off

The days of school this year were packed full of new learning experiences. The students, however, found their own special places to do as they wished. Julie Loibl liked to spend her free time in the commons. As she put it, "I think it's a privilege." The commons were too crowded for Pam Williams. "I like to spend my time off outside or in the cafeteria," she said. The TV set attracted Beth Weimer to the cafeteria during her spare minutes. "It's the only way I can get to see the soap opera," she reasoned. Tom Hutchinson commented on the conditions of lunch hour. He said, "There's a lot more room for everybody."

Mr. Ramsdell Took The Helm

"As I reflect on the past year my thoughts automatically become pleasurable and bouyant. The Chippewa Falls School District is an exciting, vibrant and tremendously progressive place to work and study. I have looked forward to each day as an opportunity to be a part of this excellent system. The dedication of the total staff and student body makes me realize that the potential of even greater things is here if we will only continue to work together and put forth the effort necessary to achieve the realization of this potential." "That every school year differs from the last is a truism. This year, 1977-78, however, will stand out in all our memories for it marks a return to normalcy, to a building in tip-top shape, to the end of severe crowdedness, and the new dawn of operations for our first class high school. I'm sure I speak for students and teachers alike in saying that we were off and running toward the best year ever for Chi Hi". Dr. H. G. Stewart, Principal

Guidance Area Was Expanded

Because one of the guidance counselors transferred to the new Middle School, there was space for a much needed conference room in the guidance area. This room proved to be most useful for conferences with students and parents and for interviews and meetings. All student records were maintained in this busy and efficient department.

Mary Prueher And Rick Schlub Reign Over Homecoming

Even though rainfall cancelled the parade, the 1977 Cardinal Homecoming proved to be successful. The Cards defeated the Menomonie Indians with a 14 - 6 victory. The court was chosen a week before Homecoming. Below left to right: Queen Mary Preuher, King Rick Schlub, Lori Lawin, Dean Walsh, Kim Swanson, Shawn Keegan, Barb Friedenfels, Mark Perry, Doreen Eckwright and Chuck Eisenreich. School enthusiasm proved abundant as the following awards were announced: Hall decorations: 1st - Juniors, 2nd - Seniors, 3rd - Sophomores

Skits: 1st - Tie between Sophomores and Juniors. Honorable mention Menomonie Homecoming Court. After the judges had traced down all the floats, the winners were announced as follows: 1st - Tie between Seniors and Spanish Club, 2nd - Juniors and 3rd - Athena. A Cardinal victory and a 1st place float (for the third year) made a Homecoming long remembered by the Seniors of '78.

Special Services Provided For Students

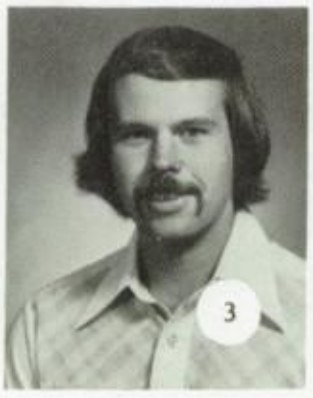
This year a new class was added to the Special Education Department. Known as Secondary TMR, this class was taught by John Kidd and two aids, Cathy Hofmann and Arlene McEathron. Thirteen students were enrolled in the class from ages 14 to 21. The class taught students basic skills, such as cooking, sewing, self-care and to recognize their name and address. The class was funded by the government in 1977-78.

Dave Wilson, who has been a teacher at Chi-Hi for 3 years, was the instructor of the EMR Special Ed. program. This class was designed for the slow learner who needs a lot of individual teaching. Subjects that were taught included English A and B, Math, Job Adjustment, Pre-Vocational Information and Independent Study.

Dave Foris was the Learning Disabilities instructor. The students involved in this course were from grades 10 through 12. The criteria for admission to this program were that the student be of average or above average in intelligence and be behind in one or more of the following areas: reading, math, spelling and written language. The students are referred for special help through teachers and psychological reports. Mr. Foris works with these students on a one to one basis and they are remediated within a year to a year and a half.

Although Betty McCausland's office is in the high school, she was the school nurse for all schools.

Students, staff and faculty alike knew they would receive lots of TLC if a visit to the nurses office was necessary. Even if you didn't have an upset stomach or an injury, this was the best place in the school for a therapeutic visit. Even administrators have been viewed snitching a piece of candy.



Faculty Are People Too

The faculty of 1977-78 numbered around 65. This was quite a difference from a faculty of over a hundred from previous years when there were four grades. This year every teacher had his or her own room. This made teachers more accessible to students because they were able to spend their preparation time in their rooms. Many teachers have taken advantage of this opportunity to add personal items as pictures and plants to make the classroom an attractive place. This also gave students a chance to learn about the teacher's special interests. Faculty meetings can be held in smaller rooms and this freedom from crowded conditions has given teachers a chance to get to know each other not only as fellow workers but as people.

Fresh Look For Chi Hi

Students returning to Chi Hi fall semester, 1977 found many improvements. For the first time in years, all the interior walls had been painted, including the auditorium and gym. Lockers had been repaired and the entire building was thoroughly cleaned. Student council provided funds for a new trophy case betweeen the doors into the auditorium. Between classes and during free periods students congregated in the outside courtyard between the library and the vocational wing instead of the parking lot.

Support Staff Maintained School

Breakfast was served at Chi Hi from 7:45 A.M. to 8:15 A.M. Hot coffee, juice and freshly baked bread and sweet rolls were especially appreciated by faculty members. A typical breakfast offered choices of fruit or juice; rolls, pancakes, French toast or cereal; and milk. Waffles with strawberries and whipped cream was a special favorite. All this for students at a cost of 15¢. Three choices of main dishes at lunch and fresh fruit and salads made hot lunch more popular too. Students paid 45¢ for a single ticket. To be greeted by the cheerful cooks, Sylvia Kenzier, Dorothy Lofthus, Lois Smack, Pat Kuster and Marie Rasmussen twice a day was also a bonus. The maintenance staff worked hard to keep the building in the excellent condition found in the fall.

Mrs. Sasama: "Singers, I will not tolerate gum-chewing!"
Mr. Ostwald: "Where is Sivertson's buck?"
Mrs. Ray: "Is anyone there? Somebody please nod!"
Mr. Culbertson: "All right class, I want you to get in there and really tear those worksheets apart!"
Mr. Brist: "That band last Friday night sounded like a gut-shot cow on a barbed wire fence!"
Mr. Stelter: "What were you two doing in the darkroom? And don't tell me you were developing film!"

Jazz Ensemble, Choir I And Advanced Art Added To Fine Arts Department

Batik, basketry, and advanced art were initiated into the Art Department this year. Serious artists further developed their skills with the aid of advanced art class. Said Lonnie Winters, "It would allow you to express yourself more completely in certain areas." Mr. McCreary observed that the lack of Freshman art students lessened the demand on equipment and materials.

A new sound was added to the instrumental department with the addition of Jazz Ensemble to the daily schedule. "This year we laid the foundation for the future of jazz in Chi Hi," Mr. Elliott stated. Choir I was new to the vocal department. As Ms. Sazama explained, "This provides a training group for the guys and girls." "You're with people singing at your own rate," commented Larry Hanson.

The change to a three year high school altered the French program. Ms. Benson taught French in the Middle School as well as French I through IV at Chi Hi. "All the students in my classes are good kids," she stated. No major changes occurred in the Spanish curriculum this year. Mr. Nelson, feeling the absence of Freshmen, said, "Our school is now lacking the zest of the ninth grade."

Boys Rode The (Home Ec.) Range

This year Home Economic classes were no longer sex sterotyped. The boys as well as girls were involved in the learning of "survival skills". The number has steadily increased, this last year there were over one hundred boys enrolled in Home Ec., with the largest percentage being in Foods classes. Home Ec. students sold cookbooks to help finance some new equipment for the classes.

Agriculture And Driver's Ed Filled A Practical Need

In our largely rural area, most students know that agriculture is more than milking cows. Ag students learned about farming skills, raising livestock and conservation. Fewer students this year resulted in more space and more time for work on projects useful in farming. The possession of a driver's license was top priority for most students: Wheels meant status!

Industrial Arts Goes Co-Ed

This past year the Industrial Arts department noticed few changes, except for the loss of freshman students. Mr. Daniel considered this loss "A relief!" Mr. Hostak felt the students were more responsible this year.

There have been very few new things added to the industrial arts department. There was one new paper storage cabinet installed for Mr. Christianson's room. Mr. Kroma acquired a new set of books. Mr. Lieding felt his classes were more organized than last year and that students were accomplishing more of their goals. Mr. Stelter's classes emphasized more photography. Mr. Christianson's students did more drawing in his architectural drawing classes with more technical illustrations on project development. Mr. Lieding felt the industrial arts department was a very enjoyable area to work in. "This is the best industrial arts department in the state," according to Mr. Stelter. Mr. Kroma wanted to see more girls take these courses, especially in the field of electronics. "Students learned to be responsible in these well equipped shops," said Mr. Daniel.

Business Ed. Turned Electronic

The primary purpose of the Business Department was to get the students interested in the Vocational opportunities in the field of business. Ms. Laura Ostrem said "this past year, they added to the department new electronic calculators as well as printing calculators". The courses offered were elective and many students felt they would be useful in the future.

New Computer Improved Math Program

The addition of a new computer to the math-science resource room benefitted many math students. However, it took more than new equipment to make a fine math program. It took good teachers and students. One student said, "The teachers have been very good in presenting the material and always ready to give help." As far as the students go, Mr. Culbertson said, "My students have been great!"

Brist Made Dates

In History

Social Studies is a subject that reflects on both the past and the present. For example: two music giants from the past, Bing Crosby, and the present, Elvis Presley, have died this year. Due to the absence of Freshmen there were only two geography classes, taught by Mr. Lamont, for people who had to repeat the class.

Mr. Diffendorfer said their absence made the situation nicer for him, "I was a traveling teacher for nine years, now I have my own room." He commented that to a certain extent freshman were more eager to learn. This was Ms. Kranzfelders last year, she taught geography and Wisconsin History.

An added attraction in Mr. Brist's history course was his "Brist's Grab and Go Dating Service" for anyone who was lonely and shy and needed a date for a special event. He's probably helped everyone in their time of need. THANKS MR. BRIST!

Phy-Ed Took A Dive

Many changes took place in school this year and the gym classes were no exception. A wide variety of classes were offered with activities ranging from peg board climbing to bicycling. New phy-ed equipment included the chinning bar, the peg board and the swimming pool at the Middle School. According to Mr. Gannon, the only new things in his classes this year were "girls."

For the first time in the school's history all gym classes were co-ed. Student reactions to the changes in the phy-ed program were:

.... "hard work but it gets you in shape"
.... "yuk!"
.... "a slow death"
.... "I don't like the co-ed classes"
.... "the swimming was a good change"

With today's increased interest in health and physical condition, phy-ed classes are stressed as an important part of the high school years. The emphasis has changed from the high school competitive sports to activities that are more commonly done in later years. Recreational sports are now just as important as the more team oriented sports.

Science Gained Interest

It's atoms to zinc oxide. It covers the natural and unnatural. You may find dissected rats and foaming test tubes. The plants may be poisonus and the stars faraway. Whatever you found, the Science Department covered it. They took fields trips and trips into the unknown. From the stars to stalagmites the teachers of the Science Department added great interest to our classes.

This year the Science Department acquired something new, a Science and Math Resource Center. It was a place where students could go during their free periods to study and work. They used film projectors, magazines and other materials and equipment that pertained to Science and Math. These things were on loan from the library and were put in Room 201, the Science and Math Center.

Teachers were usually available for help in this room and student assistants kept track of materials. As Mr. Jenke stated, "the Center is still in the beginning stages and will need the cooperation of both teachers and students to reach the goal of success that is hoped for." Mr. Rohde was new to the department this year. He taught Chemistry and renovated the darkroom.

Sci Fi Interest Reflected In The English Department

Science Fiction proved to be evermore popular this year as movies such as "Star Wars" and "Strange Encounters of the 3rd Kind" drew large crowds to theatres all over the country. The TV series "Logan's Run" and "Star Trek" gave us a startling look at what the future may have in store. The Science Fiction classes at Chi Hi offered students a chance to broaden their outlooks on what could become of their world, all the way from Utopia, a perfect society, to hell.

The Science Fiction classes were all geared to individual study and small group discussions. This seemed to be a trend toward the future for all English classes.
Better participation was recognized by most teachers in the English department this year. Having fewer students gave the teachers more time to help each student individually. Mrs. Gintz was quoted as saying "the whole atmosphere of the school is more adult, not nearly as much foolishness". The English teachers agreed that the behavior in the classroom has shown much improvement.

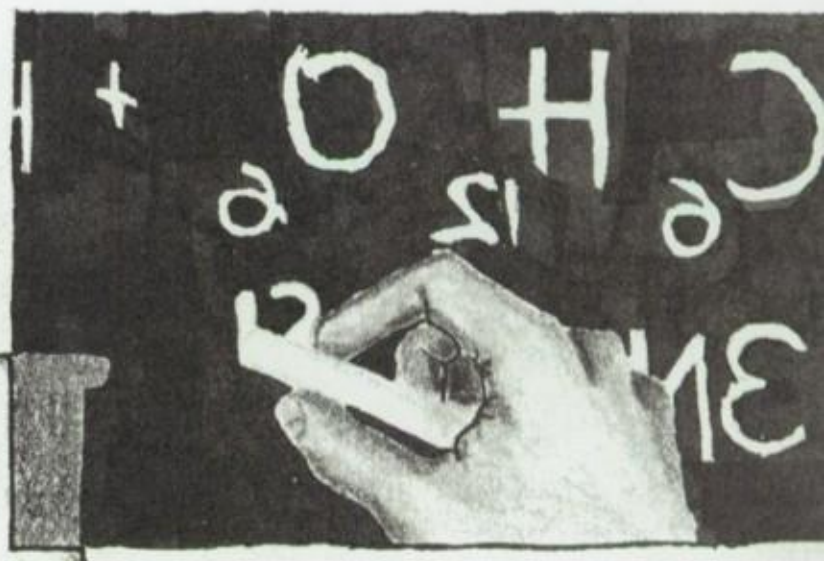
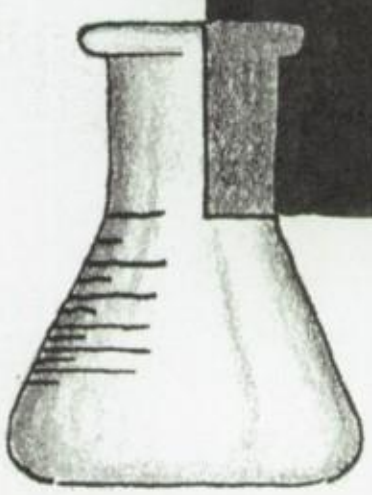
People.
Nervous seniors embarking on a new life.
Excited juniors, one year to go!
Sophomores, comfortably settled into the new routine.
Playing cards and watching cartoons together in a crowded cafeteria,
Conversing in the commons, talking over a dance, or a chem test, or the "new girl in Jeff's algebra class."
Gathering at a pep rally, all screaming for a win.
Reflecting the joy, excitement, anxiety, failure and success of life.
People.





Friends To Remember . . .

Memories . . .

Dolls of long ago, have all been placed upon the shelf,
Mirrors in my mind reflect the changes in myself.
Animals that once were real, sit lifeless
on the chairs.
No more cuddles, no more hugs, just clear and empty stares.
Boys were "creeps" who pulled your hair and called you nasty names,
But now they changed and were intent playing other games.
Memories are all that's left of carefree
sock-hop days,
Of prom dresses, party messes, and winsome want-free ways.
No more tests to study for, no
more bells to guide us.
Yesterday has passed us by: tomorrow
halts beside us.

We wonder how the years went by so fast and we start to reflect upon the past.

It's over now; it seems like yesterday when we used to drag ourselves out of bed to head for school. We thought, "when will this day end?" or even, "I hope it never ends." We seemed so young; how we have grown.

We start to reflect on our miserable moments as well as on all the fun we had. We think of all the friends we've made and the good times we have spent together. All the secrets that we've shared and all the promises made. Friends are priceless; "let's always keep in touch."

Then, suddenly it hits us. Our senior year, the year we've been dreaming about, is over. Now its time to say good-bye to those long crowded halls, to the smiles and laughter in the commons and the noise in the cafeteria. It's time to move onward, to seek out new friends and adventures. It's time to leave everything we've loved in school and time to say . . .

Juniors

All of a sudden we were Juniors and high school was half over. Our junior year was filled with decisions. The Juniors were the first to sell class buttons. At Homecoming we won 1st place in the skit competition and hall decorations and 2nd for the "Cardinal Barbershop" float.

Juniors proudly wore their T-shirts which claimed, "Next year we'll be humble, 'til then we're content to be perfect". We look forward to taking our rightful places in the senior section of the gym when the "perfect" Juniors become the "mighty" Seniors.

Sophomores

The Sophomore class of 1977-78 held a disadvantage peculiar to most classes. It remained the youngest at Chi Hi for two years. "It's the only thing I didn't like about the change to a three year high school, "remarked Carolyn Freeman. Plans were made to sponsor a dance sometime in the winter months. Buttons bearing a huge number 80 were sold to enthusiastic class members. Money will be saved until the year 1979-80. It will then be put toward a gift for the school upon graduation.

Apollo

This year a new organization, Apollo was created at Chi-Hi. This club was organized to give males, with gradepoint average of 3.4 or higher, an opportunity to participate in an organization much like Athena. One of the things they did during the year was caroling with Athena members. Officers elected in February were: Pres. - Bruce Sommerfeld, Vice Pres. - Scott Strand, Sec. - Mark Hughes, and Treas. - Dan Schumacher.

Chairman Bruce Sommerfeld and Paul Andress discussed future activities for Apollo members.

Athena

Athena is the oldest organization still active at Chi Hi. It has been around for 66 years. The original purpose of the club was "to cultivate social and literary tendencies among its members."
Initiation of new members took place in October with a Halloween theme. At Christmas members of Athena, joined by members of Apollo, went caroling to nearby rest homes. A pizza party completed the evening. In February, the girls travelled to the cities for a day, taking in a play at the Guthrie.
Officers first semester were: Pres. - Lori Gilbert, Vice Pres - Ann Sedarski, Sec. - Kim Nosal, Treas. - Terri Schneider, Host. - Lori Dobbs. Second semester officers were: Pres. - Jane Hanson, Vice Pres. - Sue Sphele, and Sharon Gibbs, Sec, - Laurie Goswitz, Treas. - Nancy Hunt, Hist. - Cindy Zimmerman.

A Halloween theme was carried out in the decorations for initiation.

Pauline Zwiefelhofer did her thing for initiation.

Art Club

Art Club has helped many students bring out their artistic abilities, for the enjoyment of others as well as themselves. This year they hoped to bring art to all the people of Chippewa by painting another wall similar to the one on Wagner St. This years Advisor: Mr. Dan McCreary, Officers: Pres.-Lonnie Winters, Vice-pres.-Julie Frederick. Sec.-treas.-Mary Jane Nayes.

Lonnie Winters drew out her painting, while Ann Kern watched.

Barbershoppers Madrigal

Madrigal and Barbershoppers were two groups who sang and performed for social and community events. For the first time there were girl Barbershoppers. They performed for community activities and concerts. In their performances they helped us remember the oldies but goodies. Madrigal, or otherwise called Swing Choir, consisted of 17 members from the Cardinal Choir. They all must have a high interest in music.

Business Club

Any student at Chi Hi taking a business class was eligible for membership in Business Club. The purpose of the club was to promote interest in careers related to the field of business. The club had many guest speakers from the community who shared helpful information with the students. A field trip to a large modern office was the highlight of the club's activities. Students also attended the annual secretarial seminar sponsored by the National Secretaries Association. Members participated in school events and had a Christmas project. A scholarship was awarded to a graduating senior who was continuing at vocational school and concentrating on a business career. The 1977-78 officers included: Pres. Cheryl Peterson, Vice-Pres. Pam Hughes, Sec.-Treas. Julie Swan, Prog. Chair. Judy Newman, Publicity, Theresa Young, Advisor, Ms. Jean Prueher.

Preparation for a career in the business world occupied these students.

Computer Club Candy Stripers

Computer Club was one of the new clubs this year. Mr. Nelson was the advisor this past year.

The Candy Stripers volunteered their time and talents to aid the staff on St. Joseph's Hospital by ministering to the needs of the patients. Sister Roselda was their advisor.

Cardette Band

This year's Cardette Band was much smaller than in previous years. In the past the band contained primarily 9th and 10th graders. The absence of the Freshmen class made a considerable dent. The quantity did not affect the quality of sound however. The younger Chi-Hi band continued to carry on the tradition of excellent performances which included a Fall, Christmas, Spring, and "Get Happy" Cabaret Concert.

Fingers flew as Linda Wohlbier and Brenda Bowe ran through "Beer Barrel Polka".

Cardinal and Cardette marching bands told time to "Rock Around the Clock".

The trombone slide jerked back and forth as Lance Ottman practiced his part in "Big Band Dixie".

Cardinal Band

The tympani explodes, the entire woodwind section reaches a brillant climax, and then the brass announce the first strains from "The Theme From Star Wars". This was one of the many lighter pieces played by the Cardinal Band during the "Get Happy" Cabaret Concert, Feb. 15. This experienced band participated in many football games, the dedication of Pure Water Days, and several concerts throughout the year.

Cheerleaders

Through rain, sleet or snow, the cheerleaders were there! While most spectators stayed under cover, the cheerleaders cheered throughout three rainy football games this year. Among their many jobs were putting up signs and posters, and planning pep rallies. The girls raised money for new skirts by selling football jerseys. The cheerleaders also participated in a donkey basketball game against the coaches and alumni, and beat both teams.

Commentator

One of the first tasks the Commentator had this past year was to sell advertising. Without selling advertising they would be without money, leaving the rest of the school without a paper. Mr. Rohde, amd members of the Monocle and Commentator staffs worked on a darkroom, which made a great improvement. The advisor of Commentator was Mr. Rogstad; the chief editor, Carolyn Brain; photographer, John Becker; and the unforgettable cartoonist, Jeff Alexander.

F.F.A.

The 1977-78 highlight in FFA was the National Convention in Kansas City. Being a local, state, and nation wide organization, they've been a very busy chapter. Judging oils and cattle at different farms, attending conventions, being on the FFA radio program, also participating in other contests, and many other events. They were also very busy in the summer months too, participating in the Jr. Livestock show entering their projects in the fair, and doing many other activities. This past year they worked hard to achieve their ribbons, trophies, and other awards. Besides doing their traditional activities, they started some new ones; the Green Hand Initiation (first yr. members), the FFA Calender program, and having a female serve as president.

For fund raising they sold popcorn, garden seeds, and had a vegetable sale. They used the money for their annual banquet, the Green Hand Initiation party, and other fun and learning experiences.

The 1977-1978 FFA Officers were: Front: Ben Proulx-reporter, Cheryl Burns-Sentinel, Back: Sharon Zastow-Treasurer, Sue Zimmerman-President, Glenn Whelan-Vice President, Not pictured Mark Monpas-Secretary.

To help Dr. Stewart keep track of the days, Sue Zimmerman and Cheryl Burns presented him with an FFA Calender.

F.H.A.

The Chi Hi Chapter of Future Homemakers of America had a very active year. One of the most important events was a "Healthy Babies" conference in Stevens Point. Other activities that filled the year were, a March of Dimes Walkathon, a hayride and a Christmas party celebrated at Paquette's Country Villa. The enrollment in FHA was limited this past year but members made up for their small size by doubling their enthusiasm. FHA was truly a learning and meaningful organization for all involved.

Forensics

Forensics had five returning state finalists from the N.F.L. tournament. They were Mike Busjohn, Jay Lea Vesseur, Teresa Congdon, Roger Anderson, Missy Maitland. Under the direction of their coach, Mr. Burke, they hope to do as good, or better than last year. Last year three state winners went to N.F.L. national tournament in Seattle, Washington. All forensics members worked hard at raising money to pay their way to tournaments. They sold a variety of items from M & M's to mugs. Forensics also sponsored a dance and managed a concession stand. The major events were N.F.L. tournament in Chicago, N.C.F.L. tournament in Washington D.C., and an award's banquet.

Outdoor Club

Canoeing on the Flambeau.

Backpackers Mr. Hostak, Kari Holte, Larry Yarrington and Jill Taylor set out along the trail.

Looking for adventure? If you were so inclined, the place to find it was the Outdoor Club. Basic survival skills were learned at meetings. These included: compass and map reading, correct clothing to wear for different activities, building proper fires, making shelters out of available materials, and outdoor cooking. Activities for the year were varied, beginning with a fall hike on the Ice Age Trail. With the temperature in the teens, the winter camp out was held over a weekend in the school forest near Bloomer. Canoeing on the Flambeau, rappeling down Bundy Hill near Menomonie, and cross country skiing at Marshmiller Lake made members sharpen their techniques. After every trip a Parent's Night was held. Slides were shown, questions answered and everyone had a chance to evalute the experience.

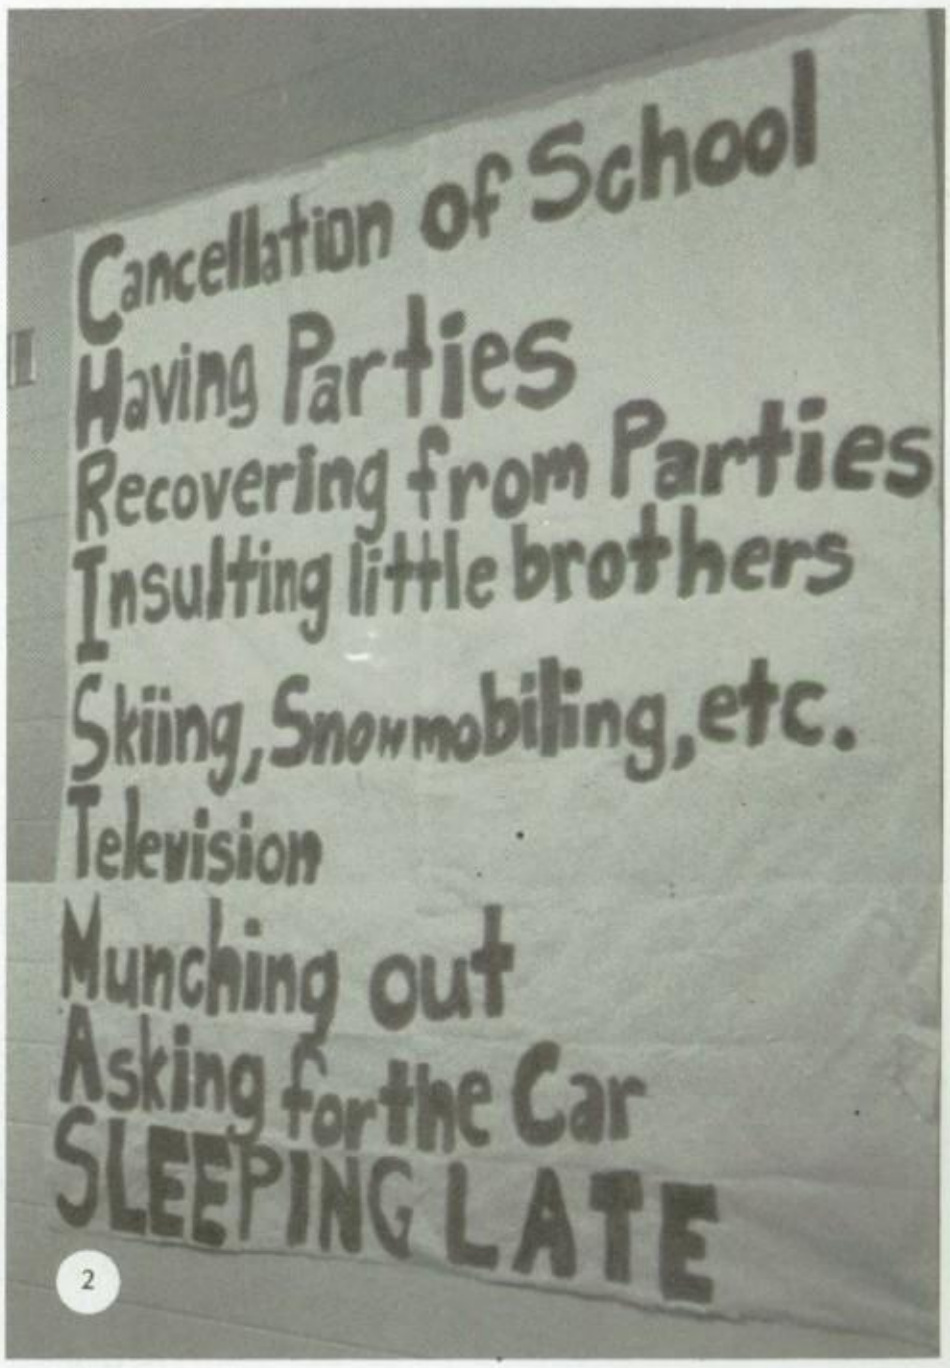
The Evergreen Made Its Scene

The day before Christmas Eve and we were still in school! This was the first year in many that found Chi Hi students still in the classroom two days before Christmas. The Holiday Season was not neglected, however. Little was accomplished in the way of real learning that last week. Many classroom parties took place and carolers filled the halls with the sound of Noel songs. On Wednesday the classes decorated their respective halls and on the following day doors were arrayed with many colorful and varied themes. On the final festive day, a pep rally was held and the Pep band brought school to a close with popular and Christmas songs in the Commons. At last Vacation had arrived?

1. "What size do you wear?", asked Coach Swenson as he handed out especially embellished gifts to the team at the Christmas pep rally. 2. This is what Christmas meant to the Junior class!



'Twas the night before deer hunting
And all thru the woods
Ostwald was out to steal all the goods
The antlers were hung by the chimney with care, in hopes that Sivertson would not be there.
He thought he was snowy all dressed in red, while visions of heifers danced through his head.
Coach in his pj's and bear on tap
Sivertson settled down for a long winter's nap.
When out in the snow there rose such a clatter, Ostwald went over to what was the matter
Away to the window he flew like a flash
Opened the shutter and there
FLASH!
But to his wondering eyes should appear - Sivertson was taking off
the deer!
A plump, bald driver away in the mist
he knew in a moment it must be Brise!
Slower than turtles course we they came Ostwald shouted and called them some names
To the top of the hill and to Ostwald's truck
Ostwald knew he was out of luck!
"Now dash away, dash away, dash away Ostwald heard him exclaim, as he drove out of sight.
"Tough luck Ostwald, you're not too bright!!!
THE END
Merry Christmas

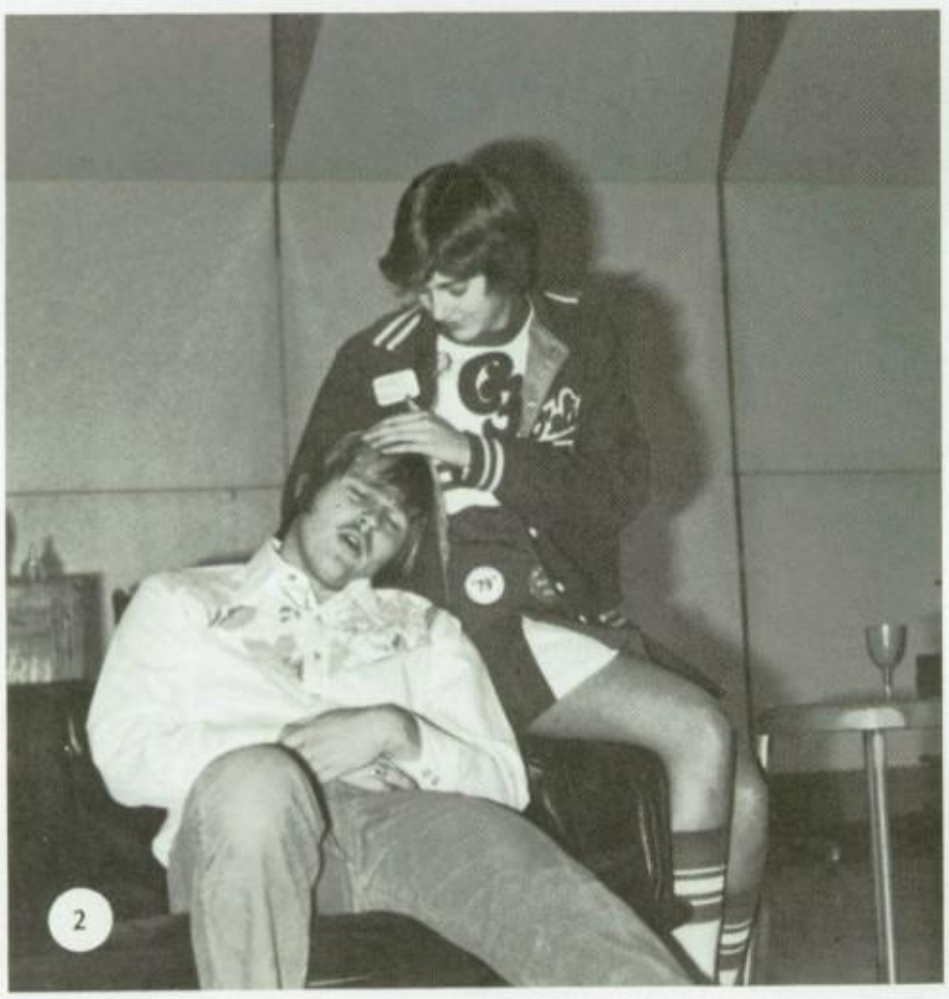
BLITHE SPIRIT Appeared (And Disappeared) At Chi Hi

The play "Blithe Spirit" was said to have been one of Chi-Hi Thespians' best performances seen in a long time. It was a story about an author, Charles Condomine (John Knapp), who decided to have a seance to congure up some old spirits. With the help of a medium, Madame Arcati (Beth Weimer), he accidently got his first wife Elvira (Felicia Glass). The turmoil began when his second wife, Ruth, and their friends, the Bradmans (Peggy Kolpien and Mark Hanson), couldn't see Elvira. The play was filled with laughs from beginning to end as the Condomine's maid (Theresa Young) tripped her way through each scene. It ended as most stories do, happily, with both wives in Heaven; and be assured that Mr. Condomine will no longer hold anymore seances.



1. The part of the lightheaded Mrs. Bradman was played to perfection by Peggy Kolpein. 2. Felicia Glass practices the art of being a good wife. 3. The second Mrs. Condomine, played by Amy Young, started the morning by reading the paper.

1. Trying to explain something that isn't there can be very difficult. 2. Beth Weimer got quite upset when she heard that she was goin to jail. 3. Tripping her way through the set Theresa Young prepared for the next scene.

I Like Dreaming . . .

You might wonder why you're going through with this, all the uncertainty and unknowing. Well, it usually starts like this:

First, you start looking around for a victim. After a couple of weeks (if you're lucky) you find a likely prospect. By then he, and everyone else in the school, knows you're going to ask him, so he's prepared with his answer, but what will it be? You concentrate, plan exactly what you are going to say, and how you're going to go about it. You casually walk up to the man of your choice and start a conversation. Somehow or other, you pop the big question. The moment between your question and his answer seems an eternity. Finally he says — YES! As you walk down the hall in a daze, it finally hits you . . . I'm going! You can't wait to get home and tell your family, buy a dress, and once again, get nervous!

Is it worth it? I think so, You get to meet a new guy, have a good time and maybe a relationship will begin.

It also helps you get ready for life. You feel a sense of importance and you grow up a little bit too.

If you never go to a high school prom, you don't know what you're missing, it's like being Cinderella for a night. The whole world is perfect and everyone is beautiful. You wish the experience would never end, but the time comes when you have to head for home.

After he's gone, you sit in your room, kick off your shoes, lie back on your bed and think about everything that happened that evening. It may have been your first date, your first kiss, or even your first prom, but whatever it was, it was a night you'll always remember, filled with excitement and magic!

1. The mural done by the Thespians illustrated the prom theme, I Like Dreaming . . . 2. The Midwinter Prom court consisted of: left to right, Dan Burtness, Roberta Hughes, Dan Mayer, Joyce Antolak, Queen Lynn Pickerign, King Rick Steinmetz, Jim Hoepner, Ann Sedarski, Kevin Bowe and Lorraine Buchegar.

1. Queen Lynn Pickerign and King Rick Steinmetz posed for pictures before leading the Grand March. 2. Darrin Zais and Celeste Stewart seem to be enjoying themselves during the Grand March. 3. "C'mon Mark let's dance."

Cabin Fever Broken By Winter Carnival

Send a Valentine to your loved one; buy a slave ticket, eat an entire banana cream pie, or enter your crazy act in the "Gong Show." These were just a few of the possible activities that were available to students during Winter Carnival Week. The festive five day event commenced with student council members selling valentines and slave tickets. The messages of love were delivered every period by student council members causing both joy and despair. With the theme of "Get Happy" the music department held their cabaret concert Wednesday evening. On Thursday many female students were given a taste of subservient life. "Slave Day" gave the guys a chance to exercise their authority, and exercise it they did! The week ended with only a half day of school. The afternoon was set aside for the pep rally, "Gong Show", and Indoor Olympics, all of which were held indoors because of the record breaking span of 46 days of below freezing weather. All in all, Winter Carnival was a refreshing change from the ordinary school routine.

Cards Showered With Winning Season

Through rain, sleet, and dark of night, the football players put up a good fight! This year's football team really had a cold wet season. The record was 5-4, which shows that the players gave it their all. The team took a third in the conference, which was the best in ten years. Many of our individual players received recognition for the good jobs they performed. Chuck Eisenreich, Dean Walsh, Mark Perry, and Dan Bowe received all-conference honors. Mark Perry was all-Northwestern and all-state, while Chuck Eisenreich and Dean Walsh were all-Northwestern. There was also a second team named to all-conference which included, Rick Schlub, Dave Erickson, John Friedenfels and Jerry Sorenson. The football players thought the major strength of the team was in passing, and the key games were against Memorial and LaCrosse Central.

Girls Take Conference Championship

Under the direction of Coach Gannon and Assistant Coach Ramsden, the girl's basketball team had a great season. With 17 wins and only 1 loss the Varsity went on to Regionals where they met with a disappointing loss against Menomonie. Junior Varsity had an almost equal record with 15 wins and 3 losses. The girls worked very hard and it paid off. The Seniors will be greatly missed, but we look to the future for an even better season, next year.

Boy's Basketball Had An Up And Down Season

The 1977-78 basketball schedule was a real challenge to the team. All season the Varsity gave it their best in practice and on the floor. The final game with La Crosse Central was the most exciting, a real cliff hanger until the final buzzer, with Chi Hi winning by 1 point. Although their record was not up to Coach Swenson's or the team's expectations we still took pride in their effort. The six seniors on the Varsity squad were Mark Hughes, Todd Ramlet, Chuck Eisenreich, Dick Smith, Jeff Boos, and Dean Walsh.

Chuck Eisenreich waited impatiently while Doug Derks shot for two.

Roll Out The Mats

This year's gymnastic teams had a very good season finishing with five firsts. This was the first year they were coached by Mr. Bayerl and Mr. Brodt. The Varsity placed fifth in regional competition, with Kim Card on the vault and Tammi Reider on the balance beam continuing onto sectionals. Both the Varsity and J.V. teams placed second in the conference. Individuals placing were Marie Short: first on the balance beam, Karen Kleinheinz: second on the balance beam, and Tammi Reider: third all-around.

Returning seniors Barb Chartrand, Kim Card, and Barb Friedenfels were chosen for co-captains. Next years team will have ten returning letter winners. It was obvious that the hard work done in practice has paid off.

Matmen Place 2nd In Conference

Once again the Chi-Hi wrestlers proved to be tough competition to their opponents. Wrestling against some of the best teams in the state, our matmen held their own.

In conference competition, the Chi-Hi wrestlers lost only to LaCrosse Central; placing 2nd in the Big Rivers Conference. The JV conference record was an outstanding 5-0.

This year the Cards had three conference champions: Ernie Loew at 119, Mark Perry at 185, and Grant cutting at Hwt. These three and Chuck Reidel qualified for the sectional by placing first or second in the regional at their own weight class. Next year's season looks promising with six returning lettermen.

Reflections

"What You Have To Attempt - To Be Yourself.
What You Have To Pray For - To Become A Mirror In Which,
According To The Degree Of Purity Of Heart You Have Attained,
The Greatness Of Life Will Be Reflected."
Dag Hammarskjold,
Secretary General Of The United Nations
1953 - 1961

Debbie,

Well another year goes by, and I guess I could say its been fun. I guess when you think back we did have a laugh or two together and its been over something really dum, like up to the Pines. I bet my stomach hurt the next day. And I will not regret it because we did have fun. Kept time Danil James play up their I'll know where to find you & Julie. Deb I don't care what anyone says about you, but I think your a very sweet person, and very understanding. You listen to my problems and cheer me up when I'm let down, so I guess I could call that a real friend. This summer I'll have you over a night or two and we call you riding horse, and have a nip or two or three or four or five eat.... So This summer if you have a party don't forget I'm always around or any problems. Have a pleasant and wonderful summer and I hope to see you around.

P.S. Don't hit the booze without me this summer, ok!

Debbie

Well its been one drunk after another this year but you can't say it wasn't fun especialy that day over at Bill when I almost died!!! that was the only time that wasn't fun. You and Bill don't make a half bad pair & hope you hit it off.. Biology was fun especially when we scared the shit out of you with the cray fish and we had to mope the floor up after I accidently spilled water on the floor (but I paid for it. my butt still hurts) There's no doubt that I'll see you at a party cause if there are any I know you'll be the first one there you alcaholic. See ya

Well this year has really gone by fast. Just think next year we will be big Juniors. We finally won't be underclassmen. It should be a lot of fun playing softball. I know we will win every game 'cuz we are so... good. I'm really glad you + Bill got together. You guys make a good ~~summer~~ pair. I think you guys will stay together for a long time. Well I 'spose I should go. Have a super summer + don't party too much.

Love,
Debbie
